

Dear Researcher

IAJPR is the one of very few Journals in world to gives Plagiarisms Report of Manuscript to Authors.

Please don't feel that your manuscript will be rejected, we just want to improve quality of your Paper and make it most genuine.

The Red portion suggests percentage of direct copy.

The web address below paragraph suggest source from which material has been copied.

What is Plagiarisms?

Plagiarism is the illegal use and theft of someone else's published work or written material.

In simple language Plagiarisms means copy of some ones work and publishing/presenting it on your name.

The humble effort of IAJPR is make your manuscript genuine. In future Plagiarisms is going to play a great role and direct copy without modification or citation will be treated as malpractice and will ground for rejection of your work.

What we want you to do.

Please format the line in your own words to reduce Plagiarisms.

Thank You
